Why ESG

ESG investing can no longer be considered a passing trend. According to Nasdaq, more than 80% of investors are prioritizing ESG stocks within their investments.

"Sustainable funds saw $15.7 billion in net inflows during Q3 2021, totaling more than $330 billion in assets as of September. Consumers are increasingly using their wallets and voices to make an impact—and ESG investing is increasingly how they're making it happen." - Nasdaq, 2022

ESG Consulting

Through a methodology based on international sustainability indicators (GRI, SDG, PRI, Global Compact), we offer the following solutions:

1. Assessment of the corporate sustainability stage (Maturity Matrix);
2. Analysis and identification of risks and opportunities;
3. Development of practices and strategies in line with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs);
4. Compliance with international and local ESG regulations such as Paris Agreement, EU Taxonomy, SFDR.

Sustainability Reporting

The sustainability reporting is the disclosure and communication of ESG actions and goals, as well as a company's progress towards them. It helps to better understand the company's strengths and weaknesses, in addition to provide internal and external benefits such as:

INTERNAL BENEFITS

- Obtain Business Vision and Strategy;
- Define better management systems;
- Identify what employees value;
- Reduction of water and energy consumption.

EXTERNAL BENEFITS

- Strengthening the brand;
- Public trust;
- Attracting investments;
- Stakeholder engagement;
- Competitive advantage.

Corporate Education

How to instruct companies to incorporate ESG guidelines if such topics have never been on the agendas and decision tables?
 - EDUCATION IS THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

In this context, we have developed contents for C-suite, senior managers and employees to help them better meet and understand the sustainability world demands.

We believe that educating leaders on the right paths for their companies ensures that they understand their responsibilities, risks and opportunities, and are therefore able to ensure the company's long-term survival.
